Time to Deliver

...I'm sending you a coin

Dear Prime Minister Liz Truss,

Congratulations on becoming our new Prime Minister. One of your top priorities now needs to be tackling the climate crisis – something I and many others in the UK care about deeply.

Wealthy nations are now two years overdue in delivering the full $100 billion a year of climate finance promised back in 2009 to the nations worst affected by the climate emergency.

Meanwhile low-income countries and communities, particularly black, indigenous and other people of colour, as well as marginalised groups such as women and people living with disability, are paying a high price to deal with the impacts of the climate crisis – a crisis for which they are the least responsible.

By sending this coin, I am adding my voice to hundreds of others across the UK to remind you to deliver on our promises of climate finance urgently. I am also joining with others in the US who are writing to President Joe Biden for the same reason. We are calling on you to use your position of global influence to secure the UK's COP legacy by pressing wealthy countries to fulfil their climate finance pledges.

In your leadership campaign you said you 'get difficult things done where others have failed' ... so we're hoping you can be 'trusted to deliver' on climate finance.

As you know, money talks: we need this finance to build global trust towards addressing the climate crisis together. Please keep climate finance at the top of the political agenda.

Yours,

#SendACoin
